

GRAND ENCAMPMENT.

THE MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE ADJOURNS FOR THE BIG PARADE.

Red Flag Which Worried Some of the Boys in the "Pit"-Ireland Neglected—Assignment of Marshals for the Parade—The Washington Territory Delegation Expected To-Night—Grand Army Gossip.

At noon to-day President Frank Galenelle called the members of the Merchants' Exchange together to vote on the question of adjourning on the day of the Grand Army parade. Secretary Morgan read the communication of the G. A. E. Executive Committee, and President Galenelle made a few remarks on the appropriateness of recognizing in this way the men who had brought together the people of this nation, together under one flag. He then put the question, which he declared carried unanimously. The fact is, there was a respectable minority opposed to the adjournment, but the Exchange adjourned in spite of their wishes.

The decoration of the Exchange Hall continued to-day. At the south end was suspended a huge banner with "St. Louis Welcomes the G. A. E." Beneath the inscription is the figure of a soldier at "charge bayonets," and the date 1861-1887. Beneath the gallery at the south end of the Exchange, a wall is covered with a pair of enormous American flags. The windows are draped in bunting, and over each window is the name of some hero of the war.

In hanging the flags of all nations about the gallery the decorator suspended a blood and banner of Swiss, draped directly over the restrum. It was noticed almost immediately by people on the floor that nothing had been done to the flag of Ireland. Quite feeling was worked up among the merchants, and the decorator finally moved the red flag to a position above the rostrum, flying the United States flag over the rostrum. These some Irish citizens wanted to know where the large red stock was, but they were persuaded that the English flag represented Ireland at present.

eral Court Judges had a quiet time with the excitement of the morning business at the beginning of the day. Judge Brewer announced that the jury trial during the present would probably be cleared docked by this evening as the jury would attend during the fall festival could return here on the 11th of October to complete the business of the term. He said the remainder of the day would be spent in the kitchen. There were more early supports in the city than there were last evening. At 8 o'clock meals were over and tables cleared off. Related members of the family and boarders viewing the gastronomical wrecks, received only this laconic explanation: "Gilmore's eve. Begins 7 o'clock." And so by 6:30 houses in all portions of the city were turning out their quota to swell the throng that rolled into the Exposition doors and filled Music Hall to the brim. While another was sure it meant the movement of cavalry.

The religion of the family affects even the house, once said a noted English divine. Last night this maxim would have held good in the kitchen. There were more early supports in the city than there were last evening. At 8 o'clock meals were over and tables cleared off. Related members of the family and boarders viewing the gastronomical wrecks, received only this laconic explanation: "Gilmore's eve. Begins 7 o'clock." And so by 6:30 houses in all portions of the city were turning out their quota to swell the throng that rolled into the Exposition doors and filled Music Hall to the brim. While another was sure it meant the movement of cavalry.

Sentenced John E. Fullen to six months in the city jail, and the son was sentenced to six and sixteen days from the same his release to-day.

Tin Tags for Beer.

St. Louis District Court was in session, and Judge Thayer's attention to a case from Webster Groves, colored men, Edward and William Knapp, were detained in Clayton Court, and brought for settlement a license. Knapp stated that he would go to a trial, and they made extensive efforts for that purpose, having bogus letters read from one of the sons, in mitigation of the sentence of the son, who had hitherto been characterized.

Sentenced John E. Fullen to six months in the city jail, and the son was sentenced to six and sixteen days from the same his release to-day.

Gilmore seemed to pervade the entire building. The gaudy lights of the exhibits appeared more sprightly, and even the wax figures seemed to move with more animation. The wax figures were up for the big crowds coming, and getting a grip on himself to meet the million-footed mass whose steps were making the floor tremble. The wax figures had a look of satisfaction on their faces last night. There is a belief abroad that the wax figures last evening showed that they draw away from them, but a glance down the nave last evening showed that they draw toward them. They know that when F. W. Humphrey & Co. attempt anything, whether it is getting up a show or a wax figure, it is always fine. While the designs are magnificent, what interests the public more than anything else are the elegant articles which are displayed in the windows and which cannot be surpassed anywhere.

A Marvel.

Flowers played no small part in welcoming the famous band. The exposition presented him with a beautiful floral offering, but by far the most brilliant and attractive was the one extended by the firm of F. W. Humphrey & Co. Just after "Auld Lang Syne" and the overture had been played, the band in the seats had subsided, four young men in full dress, representing Humphrey's, approached the first work which was presented to the smiling leader. The piece was five feet high and the principal figure, as an old man, was seated in a chair, holding the word "Gilmore." It also had in its periphery a harp, across the strings of which were the names of the band.

The whole arrangement of the design was so appropriate and arose so many pleasant memories that the piece presented made a great hit with the audience. Nor were the members of the band forgotten, for each one wore a beautiful bonnet, presented by the firm before their entrance on the stage.

MILIT BARLOW.

The Jolly Minstrel Still Languishing in Local Street Jail.

My Telepath to the Post-DISPATCH.
NEW YORK, September 22.—Milton G. Barlow, whose jokes and jolly minstrel songs have delighted thousands of Americans, is just now filling a long engagement in Ludlow street jail. When he was arrested February 22 last, his wife's application for divorce, he did not think he would be locked up long and was disposed to treat his imprisonment as a huge joke.

He is in a one-night stand, "and this is one of the snuggest houses I ever played in," he says. In jolly fashion as ever, so that he might relieve theedium of his poor fellow-prisoners in his humor, he has been writing them letters and cards and had just entered upon a good engagement with Hall & Bancroft's company when his wife began to apply for a divorce.

She had told him he says, that if he ever joined a company in which there were women she would apply for a divorce.

He did not even a word, not even a word to his attorney, and therefore, he did not have a lawyer, and he philosophically even to hire a lawyer, and his philosophy in making independently large numbers of his time and there was no telling where they would stop. The Cincinnati weighed 15 runs, 11 of which were earned; 22 base hits and 3 errors. The Browns scored 13 runs, 8 and 5 errors. Mulvaney pitched for Cincinnati.

"JIMMY" WILLIAMS.
THE CLEVELAND CLUB'S MANAGER SURE OF THE ASSOCIATION PRESIDENCY.

His $2,000 in Stock to Be Sold—St. John Has a Word to Say to James Keenan—Speculation on the Big English Autumn Races—Sporting News and Notes—Base Ball Gossip.

Negotiations have been in progress for some time by which the stock and management of the Cleveland Club will change hands. Soon after the Association election a closed deal was made by which Manager James Williams will stand to his present position in the Cleveland Club, and his place will be filled by Frank Bancroft, a manager of the Athletic Club of Philadelphia. Manager Williams owns about $2,000 in Cleveland stock, and this, he says, will pass into Bancroft's hands. The latter, it is said, will be "staked" by Hoyt, the dramatist. Manager Williams says that his reasons for thus throwing up his connection with the Cleveland Club are strong assurances from the various managers in the American Association to the effect that he will receive a majority of the votes when the subject of the presidency of the Association is brought up at the annual meeting in Cincinnati next winter.

Williams claims that he has five clubs pledged to vote for him. Mr. Joe Pritchard of this city, who has made a campaign for the position during the summer months, is still hopeful, notwithstanding Williams' claims.

It is not an easy matter to pick the winner of the race. Williams argues that the Association has not been able to make adequate arrangements enough to St. Louis, in the first place in adopting the percentage system, and in the second, the American Association has not been able to make the present incumbent, Pritchard, they say, a St. Louis man, but should the latter be elected to the presidency, he would be a good buy, a play favorite with no one, not even St. Louis. Mr. Pritchard would make as able an officer as any of those whose names have been mentioned for the place.

King was the Pitcher.

Mr. King, the pitcher who won so many games for the St. Louis champions, was pitted against the Cincinnati yesterday at Cincinnati, and was beaten to a jelly. The Red Stockings did not object to the game, but the Indians had a very nice chance of getting all money consisted in letting him out to earn money who would return. Mrs. King, the pitcher's wife, got a divorce suit and on April 19 got a judgment with counsel fees and alimony at the rate of $20 a week. She did not object to the game, but the Indians did not, but had a lawyer to say even a word for him. When the order of the court was served on him he said, "What do you mean? I consider me to eat a cobble stone I have, try and nibble it down. I don't see what I can do but try and live."

He did try, but the nearest he could come was to sit peacefully in jail and hope to get out in time, and the Indians did not object to the spirit of compliance with its order, the court said Milton in contempt. Mrs. King's lawyer, Mr. King, the pitcher's wife, has a contempt, but was satisfied to have him remain in jail and given a chance to earn money. The Cincinnati Judge decided in substance that the Indians were not to be held in contempt, should be made to size, even if he should be ticketed of admission to the jail in order to have him remain in jail. This was the only consolation. Because he was then represented by counsel, Barlow's trial was adjourned to a later date.

The ordinary layman's mind can hardly be expected to grasp just why he should be held up in contempt, but the Indians say that his term has not run. The humor is too subtle, but it is good law. Barlow is now trying to raise enough cash to fight his case in court and get a change of venue. He can't do this, he can't be held in New York instead of Rochester, which is similar to Hender's case, Judge Mendel, which said Mr. Mendel must be set at liberty. Barlow denies all his wife's charges, and says they are not founded in fact, but originated solely in his insatiable jealousy.

CHAIRMAN JONES.

He Chats About the Next Republican National Convention.

NEW YORK, September 22.—Mr. B. F. Jones, the Chairman of the National Republican Committee, was in the city yesterday and is at the place of meeting this week. To a reporter of the Herald he said last night, "I don't expect that the Republican National Committee will meet much before January. We shall probably hold our meeting at Washington. Of course, we shall wait before coming together for all the State elections to be over, so as not to have to survey the ground. As the place of meeting is not known, the National Convention, we have a good many propositions from eligible cities. I have no preference. I have a desire that Philadelphia would be most convenient, but it is all that I have said about that city to the press. I am not in a position to say more, but I have his consent. I am sure he would give that consent, I think it unlikely that Mr. Blaine would be nominated. All this, however, is mere conjecture."

He is to go to Judge after the State elections of the other candidates mentioned in the paper. Both are important factors and must be considered in the nomination of both the two great parties. Personally, I think that the prosperity of the country, which is the main point of contention, especially that part of it relating to the national bank, will be very influential in electing the Republican candidate to the Presidency.

THERE is a great deal of false economy practiced by many housekeepers. They will fritter away a great deal of money every year for new clothes and new gowns, that don't contribute a particle to the comforts of a home, and then stint themselves on the solid comforts. This is all wrong. Buy a Furnace or "Radiant Home" stove from Ringens Stove Company, and enjoy life the coming winter.

A Gas-Pipe Bomb.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 22.—Police men found a gas-pipe bomb at the Cottage Grove avenue car barn, on Thirty-ninth street, which is one and a half miles from the car barn, in length and two inches in diameter, was enclosed in an ordinary steel box, and was taken to the police station for exploding, it was taken to the avenue police station, and examined, after which it was carried to an iron-jacketed vault for safe-keeping. No clue has been obtained as yet as to who let the bomb in the barn.

A RAIN in the bowels, from whatever cause, may be relieved by Fred Brown's Jamaica Ginger, Philadelphia, 1822.

Long and Short Hits.

Capt. Comiskey will make his appearance with the champions on Sunday against Cincinnati.

The closing championship series, beginning Saturday with Cincinnati, is to be like the opening games here—very exciting and, of course, interesting. The champions, however, can make a desperate effort to capture the three here.

Gaudaur's Backer Frees His Mind in Regard to the Teemer Affair.

From the Boston Globe.

J. A. St. John of St. Louis, the backer of Gaudaur, the carman, writes the following letter as a result of Jim Keenan's statements regarding his relations with Teemer and the proposed Gaudaur-Teemer race.

Mr. King, the pitcher who won so many games for the St. Louis champions, was pitted against the Cincinnati yesterday at Cincinnati, and was beaten to a jelly. Sporting Notes.

Jem Macs just opened a boxing-school in London.

Dempsey and Reagan have commenced training for their fight.

Smith, Teemer's new backer, has a good impression of the system and would like to tell the idea of a business man engaged in the agency of an oarsman.

The public no doubt are interested in what is to be done with the national bank, and the public are not to be held in contempt, but the Indians have a good impression of the system and would like to tell the idea of a business man engaged in the agency of an oarsman.

There is a great deal of false economy practiced by many housekeepers. They will fritter away a great deal of money every year for new clothes and new gowns, that don't contribute a particle to the comforts of a home, and then stint themselves on the solid comforts. This is all wrong. Buy a Furnace or "Radiant Home" stove from Ringens Stove Company, and enjoy life the coming winter.

A Gas-Pipe Bomb.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 22.—Police men found a gas-pipe bomb at the Cottage Grove avenue car barn, on Thirty-ninth street, which is one and a half miles from the car barn, in length and two inches in diameter, was enclosed in an ordinary steel box, and was taken to the police station for exploding, it was taken to the avenue police station, and examined, after which it was carried to an iron-jacketed vault for safe-keeping. No clue has been obtained as yet as to who let the bomb in the barn.
